WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK FINANCIAL NEWS

BUSINESS BRIGHTENS ON LOCAL 'CHANGE

Session Is More Act' 3, But the Tendency of Prices Is Less Firm-Bond Issue.

washington Stock Exchange made up today for its inactivity of yesterday by transacting a good grist of usiness. The trading extended over a fair list of both bonds and stocks. There was a softening tendency in Washington Railway 4's, for tthe first ime in weeks. After $6,000 of the bonds had been sold at 83% the price dropped, and $1,000 was sold at % and $3,000 more at 1/2. After call, however, it was necessary to pay 84 for a $300 lot. In Potomac Consolidated 5's, after one lot sold at 100%, two more went at a frac-washington railway common conti-ued strong and a quotation lot sold : 92. Two fire insurance stocks came on Firemen's, of which six shares sold : 20, and National Union, of which thir shares sold at 6. Forty shares of Union Trust went at 125½ and 1½ was pa for 160 shares of Lanston. The oth trading was small.

The governing committee of the sto exchange met this afternoon to consid-the application of the Continental Tru Company to list its stock. It was e-pected that favorable action would

The United States Realty Companteday placed on record a $500,000 bon mortgage to the United States Trus Company. The bonds bear 5 per centaterest and run for twenty year. The National City Bank, of New York, has issued a statement in reference to its connection with the work of Miss Lotta Taylor in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, in which it declares tha tithe bank does not feel that there is anything in its relations with the Treasury Department to require explanation, but that "the public should have the exact facts." The statement is as follows:

"For a number of years the National City Bank has had an agency in Washington for the purpose of furn shing a convenient means to its correspondent banks to have the representative required by law in connection with the destruction of National bank notes and the handling of bonds to secure circulation and deposits. It has also been a practice, in which we have had the full co-operation of the Treasury Department, to have an employe visit the Comptroller's office to compile such information from the statistics in the Comptroller's reports as it is customary to give out to anybody who desires to Comptroller's reports as it is customary to give out to anybody who desires to have it.

The National Bank act provides that ever ynational bank shall make a report ever ynational bank shall make a report of its condition upon the Comptroller's call, shall forward that to the Comptroller's office within five days of the date of the call, and shall publish it in the local newspaper. The object of the periodic call of the Comptroller is to display the condition of national banks to those who have business relations with them.

"The reports of the Comptroller of the

"The reports of the Comptroller of the Currency, as is well known, are public property, except in so far as they concern the private relations of a bank with its customers, which are never divulged. As a matter of fact, the statistics as to the condition of banks are published in the newspapers all over the country and become public property long before the National City Bank obtains them in the omptroller's office.

"We have for many years kept a card index showing half a dozen of the principal items, such as surplus, deposits, loans and overdrafts of all national banks. Originally this was obtained in more or less incomplete form by securing the information direct from individual banks. The information is not compiled by the Comptroller for thirty days or more after it is published by the individual banks. It is manifestly an impossible task to get six or seven thousand banks to send copies of their statements promptly. We have found, therefore, it was a better plan to obtain the information directly at the Comptroller's office, where it is all centered and where it has always been open for anyone making inquiry. The work for anyone making inquiry. The work of compiling this information for the use of the National City Bank has to be done in the Comptroller's office, because the reports are not permitted to be taken from the office. Obviously to make up the statistics it is make up the statistics it is necessary to use a desk, but there is no regular place assigned or any connection had with the Treasury Department except

Will Not Spend More Than Eight Days in Sacramento, According to Report.

Secretary of State Bryan is expected From Public Life By Leaving to return to Washington May 7, and will not spend more than a week or eight days at Sacramento, according to semi-official information today. The Japanese situation was canvassed at the Cabinet meeting today, and President Wilson, it is reported, communicated the latest tariff develbassador seventy-five years young, said farewell to aWshington today, and started back to England to take up the literary labors he dropped in 1907 when his government detailed him to the United States to settle some vexing international disputes.

The ambassador's ruddy face, framed in its aureole of white whiskers, was solemn as he said goodby to diplomatists and national officials who made a little fete in the Union Depot, bidding him godspeed.

"Yours is a wonderful country and a wonderful government," he said. "I Panama at that time.
